

LISA ASCHKENASY, ESQ.

Lisa is a graduate of Barnard College (as is Emily Martinez!) and of the New York University School of Law. Lisa began her legal career as an attorney at Connecticut Legal Services in Stamford where she represented clients in Family Law cases in Superior Court. Lisa continued to practice family law as an attorney at the Safe Horizon Domestic Violence Law Project and was assigned as 18B counsel to clients in Queens County as part of that position. Lisa became a Court Attorney in Family Court in 2002 and spent the majority of her time as a court attorney in New York County Family Court. Lisa became a referee in 2013 and presently sits in Kings County Family Court.
